Newly Established a Shin-Yokohama Design & Sales Center

Kyoto, Japan – Nuvoton Technology Corporation Japan (NTCJ) today announced the opening of its Shin-Yokohama base. Strengthen our activities in the Kanto area.

Nuvoton Technology Japan Co., Ltd. has established a new design & sales center in Yokohama, Kanagawa.

We are accelerating our business activities to contribute to solving social issues such as expanding carbon neutrality and energy problems. With this new establishment, we will further strengthen our activities in the Kanto area.

At this base, we will provide closer technical support to customers in the Kanto area, and work to create innovation through strengthening human resources and industry activities. Furthermore, we also consolidated three sales offices such as Toranomom, Hachioji, and Saedo into this base, and will contribute to solving customers' problems by accelerating the products and solutions proposal in collaboration between sales and technical departments.
